Dear Allen:

The enclosed memorandum from my partner,
George Turner, refers to a man who is of the type that I spent so much time in recruiting during the late war and found so very useful in intelligence work.

It has occurred to me that you may want to
"ticket" him as a possible candidate for intelligence work at some later date.

Sincerely yours,

Agreed his comments

Dear Al:

STAT
STAT
Upon my return from Europe yesterday, I found your letter of 8 August. I appreciate your passing on to me the name of [redacted] and I will see what we can do about him. Unfortunately, the red tape involved in getting people transferred is a serious item unless we can show that the candidate's qualifications are unique for our particular work.

STAT
During my trip abroad, I had a good talk with [redacted] At that time I met [redacted] who, I believe, worked for you. I would appreciate it if you would give me your personal views about her as it is quite likely that [redacted] she might be available for transfer to us. Incidentally, I have noted her personal history sheet among the records which you gave me.

Sincerely,
